

Adler Display is celebrating 80 years this month, so we thought we'd share a few of our milestone achievements. However, we are grateful to all of our clients who have played an instrumental role in our success and longevity.

1937

Howard Adler opens Adler Display

Howard Adler opens Adler Display in the attic of his mother's clothing store on Preston Street, beginning with hand lettering signs.

1958

Nipper, the RCA Mascot

Nipper, the RCA Mascot, is created out of papier-mâché to sit on the roof of the RCA distributor's building in downtown Baltimore.

1963

Children's Zoo at Druid Hill Park

Children's Zoo at Druid Hill Park opens featuring Noah's Ark, Mouse House, a swinging bridge, and more.

1994

Fox at Fox Chevrolet in Timonium

Adler Display builds Fox's mascot out of papier-mâché and fiber glass. A total of four foxes were created for dealerships in Maryland including Timonium, Social Security, Ellicott City, and Laurel.

2000

Adler Display Moves to Windsor Mill

The company moves to a more modern 17,000-square-foot facility that contains a woodworking shop, display showroom, graphics and printing space, and more. Today's equipment includes CNC machinery and advanced direct-to-media printers.

2012

Barbara and Jenna Adler Join the Business

The family business expands. Jenna joins Adler Display in Marketing and Sales, while Barbara works in Accounting.

2014

Shock Trauma Interactive Donor Recognition Display

The display created for University of Maryland Medical Center celebrates the Shock Trauma Critical Care Tower and the generous donors who contributed to the tower project. An interactive application share donors' unique stories including a biography and short video.

2016

Towson University Athletics Displays

New athletic center displays for Towson University include monitors that play footage of the school's athletic activities, dimensional logos, back-lighting to highlight the school's mascot, window and wall graphics, and a Hall of Fame wall.

The Enchanted Forest

1955

The children's theme park located in Ellicott City, Maryland, features Mother Goose Nursery Rhymes brought to life, including Humpty Dumpty, the Crooked House, and Three Little Pigs.

Frontier Town in Ocean City, MD

1959

Frontier Town, a western-themed park in OC, Maryland, is built to include a main street, salon, bank, and train rides.

Ron Adler Becomes President of Adler Display

1985

Ron started working as a display artist in Adler Display's fabrication shop before joining the business full time. He attended Maryland Institute College of Art and Parson's Design School in New York.

Maryland Aviation and Space History Wall at BWI Airport

1997

Adler Display performed research to design and print graphics for the 170 ft. by 28 ft. wall mural that features 25 events in Maryland's aviation and space history.

Baltimore Visitor Center at the Inner Harbor

2004

The visitor center, a focal point in the Inner Harbor, features floor-to-ceiling displays including brochure racks, large format graphics of places in Baltimore, interactive monitor kiosks, backlit signage, and more.

The Star Spangled Banner Museum

2013

The museum in downtown Baltimore consists of graphics, artifacts, and interactive displays that tell the story of Mary Pickersgill, the maker of the Star Spangled Banner flag that was hoisted over Fort McHenry during the Battle of Baltimore in the War of 1812.

Washington Capitals, Wizards, & Valor Displays at Verizon Center

2015

Several displays are installed for the Washington Capitals, Wizards, & Valor. One display for the Caps houses hats to recognize players' hat tricks, while the Washington Wizards' display features retired basketball player and long-standing announcer, Phil Chenier.

Sinai Hospital's Organ Donor Display

2016

Sinai Hospital's Donor Display honors generous organ and tissue donors by sharing their stories and adding their names to a colorful memorial wall. The interactive touch-screen also features technology allowing people to scan their licenses to sign up as donors.